RECONSTRUCTION WORK PRO- GRESSING EPLENDIDLY.

With the departure of Miss Jessie Luther, to engage in Reconstruction Work at Walter Reed Hospital, Washington, D. C., her place will be filled by Miss Sarah E. Mulliner, who has been acting as assistant to the Chief Aide.

The Reconstruction work has reached a very worthy stage. Under the supervision of the Chief Aide, the 31 aides who co-operate on the work on the closed wards, and the 10 aides whose duties are in the shop, have been instructing and supervising the basket making and other handicraft of some 300 soldier patients. During the past week, an exhibit of the splendid pieces made has been placed in the Chamberlin hotel. Through the development of the work along lines of system and concentration, very satisfactory results have been obtained, and it is with pride that those responsible for this achievement, look upon the results obtained.

Up to a given number, the patients are allowed to retain possession of the articles which they make.

After this number is reached, their future productions may be retained by them, if they will duplicate their product so that one may be kept by the Educational Department to be sold to buy more material. Patients productions may be given away at their homes, but may not be given away or sold on the Post.

THE WAY TO WIN.

In the Days to Come, After Employer
Uncle Sam, Fires You.

Don't spend your time thinking how much you can get out of your employer's business. It won't pay him nor will it pay you. Spend your time and effort to see how much you can put into the business. This will pay you both.

Your employer, no matter how selfish you may think him to be, will quickly take your measure. The more selfish he is, the more he will want to keep the worker who works for him, as well as for himself. He will hold on to the man or woman in his employ who is increasing his business and his profits.

The efficient employee will be the last to go when hard times come. The efficient employee will be the first to be chosen by other employers in the same line of business in search of good men.

Every successful, self-made man or woman has attained success through honesty, industry and efficiency. This is the way by which Carnegie rose from telegraph operator to the head of the largest steel corporation in the world.

This is the way by which Schwab rose from a water carrier to the presidency of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, and John D. Rockefeller from clerk in a country store to the head of one of the greatest oil industries in the world and had his methods of efficiency copied by all his successful competitors.

Every successful banker and business man in the self-made class, whose life stories we read with such absorbing interest, won success not by opposing but by helping his employer; not by watching the clock, not by seeking as many leisure hours as possible, but by unceasing vigilance to the end that his employer might win and that he might be a winner with him.

Let the reader who is familiar with the interesting stories of our business men name one who carried out this plan and failed.

Build for your employer. In doing so, remember that you are always building for yourself.

Me for the full life,
Full of love and tone;
Me for the real life,
Wife, baby and home;
Me for things higher,
For I'm Human Desire.

Me for the true life,
Loveless and alone;
Me for the simple life,
A man without a home;
Me for the pure satire,
For I'm Mr. Liar.

LT. JOHNSTON RESIGNS COMMISSION.

The Educational Department has without doubt suffered a real loss in the discharge of Lt. Richard T. Johnston, who left Wednesday evening.

The lieutenant has had charge of the Industrial Division in the Educational Department since its inception at this Post.

He entered the service in June, 1918, in civilian capacity, as Curative Workshop Instructor and was assigned to U. S. A. General Hospital No. 9, at Lakewood, New Jersey. In August, 1918, he was commissioned First Lieutenant, Sanitary Corps, and placed in charge of the Industrial Division of the Educational Department of the above hospital. Upon the transfer of the Educational Organization to this Post, the lieutenant came with it, in the same capacity he held at Lakewood. He arrived here on May 21st.

Lt. Johnston left Wednesday evening enroute to his home at Montclair,

N. J., to re-engage in his work as Director of Industrial Work in the public schools of that city, the position he held before entering the service of the Government. His wife and little daughter Ruth are now awaiting his arrival at their home in Montclair. The Department accredits him as being a most efficient man in Industrial Educational lines and we are assured he was well liked by the many who have taken instruction under him, as well as those associated with him in the work.

Mr. George F. Hatch, of West Roxbury, Mass., who has been here as assistant to Lt. Johnston, will now succeed the latter, taking over the department.

"HOW COME?"

All those daintily hand-painted missives received daily and bi-daily, by the disbursing Q. M. Officer? Such nice, sweet-scented pink stationery 'n everything used. —Contrib.

SGT. 1st c. CURRAN GOES TO WASHINGTON.

Today will be a sad day for some of the little Misses of Phoebus and Hampton. We learned this morning that Sgt. 1st c. William H. Curran is to leave this vicinity, transferring to the Army Medical School, Washington, D. C., for instruction in X-Ray Laboratory work.

Sgt. Curran has a long record of faithful service, which begun with his enlistment at Fort Slocum in the Medical Department in June 1916, for service on the Mexican Border, where he served during the Mexican trouble, attached to the 14th Cavalry. In 1918 he was transferred and attached to the 15th Cavalry, Sanitary Squads 1 and 2 at El Paso, Texas, and later went to Camp Travis, where he was attached to the 18th division. He came here from Travis on February 10th of this year and was assigned to the Recording Office and has been on duty there since.

The Sgt. will spend fifteen days on furlough at his home in New York City, after which he will report on his new assignment at Washington. The Post's best wishes are extended him.

OFFICERS TO DANCE TONIGHT.

Tonight will occur in the Red Cross convalescent house another of these much to be enjoyed dances, attended by officers and their wives and friends. A pleasant party is predicted.

ANOTHER SWIMMING PARTY.

Arrangements are being made for another big night at the Chamberlin next week by the girls of the Quartermaster's Supply Office. All Post girls have been invited by the Q. M. girls to join them. Date to be announced later.

ENLISTED UTILITIES NO MORE.

With the transfer of Pvt. John B. Coyle, to the Medical Corps of this Post, the Utilities Department ceases to be an enlisted personnel, civilians having replaced the enlisted men.

HEADQUARTERS CLERK DEPARTS.

Pvt. Thomas Smith, of Headquarters, left last night, discharged, for his home in Camden, N. J. He bids farewell to the Post family and wishes them luck and success in getting out.

MID-WEEK VAUDEVILLE.

Vaudeville is usually entertaining. There is enough life and variety about it to appeal to the average theatre goer.

Wednesday evening's show was of the character of vaudeville, and played to a well filled house. Comedy sketch, singing and dancing were among the principal features. The "dead man" act played by the black face and a lad provoked much laughter.

Following the vaudeville, a movie with a plot of unusual character, but which proved quite interesting and fascinating, was shown.

Miss Jessie Luther, who has been associated with the Reconstruction work of General Hospital No. 43, as Chief Aide, will depart Saturday to

She has been very efficient here, and leaves a host of friends, who while regretting her departure, rejoice in her good fortune.
